

Missile Chief Special Guest

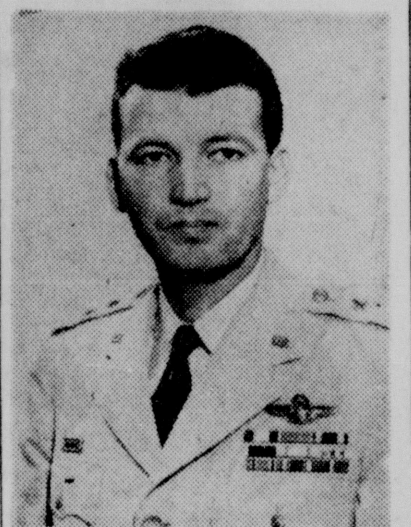

Full Crowd Expected For Banquet Friday

The United States Armed Forces are to be honored in Sedalia Friday night, May 17, when the communities in the area of the Whiteman AFB will pay tribute at a banquet to be held at the Smith-Cotton High School cafeteria. Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, chief of the Air Force ballistic missile program, will be the principal speaker on the program.

United States Senator Stuart Symington, a personal friend of the general, is coming to Sedalia to pay tribute to the Armed Forces and will introduce the speaker.

It is the first time since the Whiteman Air Force Base was re-established that the communities have joined together in such an activity. The military affairs and aviation committee of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce is making all arrangements and producing the affair into an area gathering.

Gen. Schriever and Sen. Symington are being accompanied to Sedalia by Mrs. Schriever and Mrs. Symington. They, too, will be present at the affair.

Maj. Gen. Bernard Schriever, chief of the Air Force ballistic missile program, will be the principal speaker on the program.

Arrangements have been completed for Gen. Schriever to appear before the Smith-Cotton High School assembly Friday morning. The Recognition Assembly of the school will be held at that time and as soon as awards have been completed, Gen. Schriever will appear and give a talk.

Known throughout the world as "Mr. Missileman", Gen. Schriever will have a talk for the students that will be equally as interesting as that to be given that night.

Seniors of both Sacred Heart and Hubbard High School have been invited to attend the assembly to hear the general.

Gen. Schriever is a native of Bremen, Germany, who came to the United States with his parents in 1917 and was naturalized a U. S. citizen in 1923. He received his

Arrange Observance Of Armed Forces Day

Plans for Whiteman's 1957 Armed Forces Day celebration on May 19 were firming up this week, according to Lt. Col. Harry W. Robb. As planned now, the gates will be opened to the public at 11 a.m. Sunday, May 19, and visitors will be able to start touring through shops and hangars, go through static display aircraft and examine much of the equipment used by the combat-ready 340th Bombardment Wing.

Static display aircraft will include, in addition to Whiteman bombing, refueling and cargo aircraft, one H-21 helicopter, a T-33 jet trainer and three jet fighters, the F-86, F-89 and the new super-sonic F-102.

Demonstrations and exhibitions will round out a full afternoon of activity starting at 1:30 p.m. with University of Missouri AFROTC cadets. Later in the afternoon, there will be firefighting and sentry dog demonstrations and judo exhibitions before the gates close at 5 p.m.

For the visitors tired from walking on the flight line, jitney buses will leave Gate No. 6 every 15 minutes of the day for base tours, and films about the Air Force and Armed Forces Day will be shown every hour on the hour in the base theater.

Also in connection with Armed Forces Day, the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a half-hour Armed Forces Day program over KDRO-TV, Sedalia, Wednesday night 7-7:30 p.m. Subject of the program will be the why and when of Armed Forces Day, a discussion of the 50th anniversary of the Air Force occurring this year, Maj. Gen. Bernard Schriever's address Friday night at the Smith-Cotton High School and the Whiteman Air Force Base Armed Forces Day schedule of activities.

This year the nation's eighth annual Armed Forces Day is especially significant for the Air Force since it occurs in the year the Air Force is celebrating its 50th anniversary. The first aerial arm of the United States started back in 1907 with the activation of an aeronautical division by the Army.

All military and civilian personnel at Whiteman are urged to bring their families, friends and neighbors out to the base to enjoy this year's celebration.

Ike Pledges Vietnamese More Help

He and President Diem Say Peiping's Buildup Is Threat

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—President Eisenhower today backed free Viet Nam with a strong pledge of continued U. S. assistance in the face of mounting Communist pressure in southeast Asia.

In a joint statement, Eisenhower and visiting President Ngo Dinh Diem declared that any Communist aggression or subversion threatening the political independence of the infant republic "would be considered as endangering peace and stability" in the area.

The statement issued by the White House at the end of three days talks, struck hard at the continued military buildup of the Chinese Communists.

It declared Peiping's military activity "constitutes a continuing threat to the safety of all free nations in Asia."

The communique cited Communist China's refusal to renounce the use of force and "unwillingness to subscribe to the standards of conduct of civilized nations."

The tone of the communique appeared intended to reassure not only Diem but other Asian leaders that the United States continues firmly opposed to any recognition of the Peiping regime.

Eisenhower and Diem also noted what they called "the large buildup" of Vietnamese Communist military forces in North Viet Nam during the past 30 months. The country was partitioned at the 17th parallel as the result of a peace conference in Geneva in 1954.

They cited "harsh suppression" of the revolts of the people of North Viet Nam "in seeking liberty, and their increasing hardships."

Although they said there was an apparent slackening of Communist-inspired hostilities in Southeast Asia with the exception of the kingdom of Laos—which shares a common frontier with North and South Viet Nam—they "expressed concern over continuing Communist subversive capabilities in this area and elsewhere."

To counter this threat, the communique said Diem indicated his strong desire and his efforts to seek closer cooperation with the other free nations of Asia.

October Is Selected For Long Reported Visit by Elizabeth II

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—Early October has been selected for the long reported visit to this country by Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip.

This was learned today from persons familiar with the negotiations that have been under way for months between Washington and London. The British Queen and her husband are expected to spend 10 days in this country.

This will be the Queen's first visit to America since she ascended the throne in 1952. She and her husband, then the Duke of Edinburgh, were here in 1951 as the guests of former President Truman.

McClellan Tells Newsmen:

Beck May Have Gone Afoul Of Federal Mail Fraud Law

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) said today that Teamsters Union President Dave Beck may have run afoul of the federal mail fraud law in his handling of a widow's trust fund.

"The treatment he accorded the widow of his dearest friend is typical, it seems, of his dominating characteristic of greed and avarice," McClellan told newsmen in reviewing the latest testimony about Beck.

McClellan is chairman of the Special Senate Rackets Investigating Committee which will resume Monday afternoon public hearings in which Beck has been pictured as using union funds for the enrichment of himself and members of his family.

The 62-year-old Teamsters boss, who already has invoked the Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination 150 times in refusing to answer committee questions, will be recalled later in the week—probably Wednesday, McClellan said.

The widow McClellan referred to is Mrs. Ray Leheny, whose husband was an official of the old AFL. Beck was trustee of an $80,000 fund raised for her from union members after Leheny's death.

Donol F. Hedlung, a Seattle mortgage banker, testified yesterday that he and Beck shared an $11,585 profit from investing this money for Mrs. Leheny. Hedlung described Leheny as Beck's "best and closest friend."

Placed in evidence was a letter from Beck to Mrs. Leheny in which no mention was made that Beck and Hedlung would derive a profit from the sale of mortgages which he recommended to her as a sound investment.

McClellan, referring to what he called Beck's "breach of trust" in this transaction, said "there is a possibility the letter he wrote her would come within the federal statute banning use of the mails to defraud."

He also said he thought the Internal Revenue Service and the Justice Department would be interested in finding out whether Beck reported and paid income tax on his profit in this deal as well as other financial transactions brought out in the testimony.

Beck already is under indictment on a charge of evading income tax payments for the year 1950.

McClellan said testimony now in the record has "clearly revealed, and further testimony also will reveal, that Beck has wholly breached his trust in the position he holds as president of the International Teamsters Union and as trustee of its funds."

Forest Fire Stopped Short Of Plymouth

At Peak Of Blaze, More Than 3,000 Firefighters Help

PLYMOUTH, Mass., May 11 (AP)—Plymouth beat back the worst forest fire in town history—with nature's help.

But before rain came last night and watered down the fires which swept over thousands of acres of woodlands, the Pilgrim spirit which made this settlement more than three centuries ago, rose again to fight the peril.

This time Plymouth had help. Every one of the 27 Plymouth County communities sent at least one fire truck.

Cities and towns in adjoining counties of Norfolk, Bristol and Barnstable also sent fire trucks—and men.

At the peak yesterday more than 3,000 firemen, National Guardsmen, volunteers, state highway workers, and high school boys were manning fire hoses and shovels.

One of the biggest boons to firefighters deep in the woods was a fleet of tank trucks which brought water by the thousands of gallons.

Some of the unsung heroines of the three-day emergency were Plymouth housewives who brought carton after carton of sandwiches to fire headquarters. The women walked in, put the sandwiches on a table—and went home to make more.

Firemen came from Boston and Cambridge, 50 miles to the north. They came from Truro, 70 miles away near the tip of Cape Cod. Cambridge is a built-up city, and doesn't have any woods fire equipment. But it had a fog-making apparatus, designed to fight oil fires. They sent it because it ought to work well on a woods fire. It did.

Volunteers came from all walks of life. There were the 60 state prison inmates stationed at a woods camp in the Myles Standish State Forest, near the fire area. They all turned firemen for three days. The fire started Wednesday.

Long before the fire reached the Food, Work Shortage

Red China Discloses Nation Is Sick Within

HONG KONG, May 11 (AP)—Red China has lifted its Bamboo Curtain and revealed a nation beset by unemployment, food shortages, conflicts among the masses and paralyzing bureaucracy.

In a series of frank disclosures in the official press and over Peiping radio in recent days, the Peiping regime has admitted that the threat of famine hangs over much of the country in the wake of last year's floods, drought and the disastrous typhoon, Wanda.

Foodstuffs are short, particularly pork. For the first time in many months some foreign ships calling at Chinese ports have left with empty holds because there was nothing to export.

Much of the unemployment is a by-product of last year's calamities. Thousands of peasants, unable to eke out a living, have swarmed to the cities in search of jobs. Bad personnel planning for industry has contributed to the growing ranks of the jobless, an official announcement says.

In addition to these difficulties, the Communist leadership is grappling with two problems which strike at the very heart of its control of the country.

Cloudbursts Add More Threats To Soggy Texans

DALLAS, Tex., May 11 (AP)—New cloudbursts up to seven inches posed additional flood threats to southwest Texas today as tornadoes harried and hail battered the waterlogged state again.

The fresh flood threats arose while heavy overnight rains up to 4½ inches continued from Abilene westward to Big Springs and southward past San Angelo and Mertzon.

A woman drowned in a flash flood that engulfed an auto on a highway near Del Rio, on the Mexican border. Overnight rains in that area ranged from two inches up to seven at Langtry.

Mrs. Hazel Wood Miller, 66, Calvert, Tex., drowned on U. S. 90 east of Del Rio. Sgt. Leonard A. Fugelsang of nearby Laughlin Air Force Base rescued her five women companions and four others who were clinging to trees and their cars.

Sen. Knowland Attacks Trade With the Reds

He Says Communist World Is at Crisis; Why Extend It Help?

ST. LOUIS, May 11 (AP)—Sen. William F. Knowland, the Senate minority leader, today attacked proposals to trade with or supply Communist-dominated nations.

The California Republican told American legionnaires celebrating the organization's 38th anniversary:

"It doesn't make sense to me that the United States and our free allies would embark upon a program to rescue the Communist world from its own evil shortcomings."

Knowland analyzed that the Communist world is at a "crisis in its economic and political life . . ."

He said the enslaved people of the earth will be watching to see if Communist nations will benefit by the opening of wider doors of trade; if agricultural supplies will be sent to the Polish Communists, and if more jet planes will end up in Yugoslavia.

The legislator, an active legionnaire, also predicted that "sooner or later there will be another Hungary" and asked would the United Nations be "prepared to do more than talk and pass 10 resolutions."

Knowland said that the General Assembly of the UN passed 10 resolutions in 76 days of debate last year while "freedom was being strangled to death in Hungary."

"When freedom is destroyed anywhere a bit of freedom is destroyed everywhere," the legionnaires were told.

The senator added it was time the American people rededicated themselves "to a renewed faith in our free way of life."

The Legion was founded in 1919 in St. Louis.

Paroles Two Boys For Stealing Car Containing Infant

KANSAS CITY, Kan., May 11 (AP)—A suspended sentence and parole to their parents were given today to two boys who stole an automobile and discovered later that a 2½-year-old baby was asleep on the rear seat.

The boys are Barry Allen Dugan, 15, and Wayne Steinmetz, 14. Judge Joe H. Swinehart of Wyandotte County Juvenile Court, after lecturing them, sentenced them to indeterminate terms in the Boys' Industrial School at Topeka. He then suspended the sentence for a trial period of good behavior and paroled them.

The boys told the judge they were running away to Canada when they took a car from the James Draves residence the night of May 3. After finding the baby, Jimmy Joe, on the rear seat they put him into another car parked near a farm. The baby was found and returned unharmed to his parents.

Scores of officers and farmers searched all night for the boys. They were caught on a railroad track about 5 a. m. May 4.

Final Traffic Survey Phase Begins Monday

The final phase of the curb traffic survey will begin tomorrow in an effort to determine the parking pattern in downtown Sedalia. As before, interviews of drivers who park in the business section will be conducted by Sedalia women. These interviews take only a few seconds, and the information gained from the interview notes will be of value in establishing the location of off-street parking areas. The program is under the direction of Joseph Feuchter, traffic engineer.

Young Bride Of Versailles Dies in Wreck

Husband Remains In Dangerous State After Being Injured

A bride of ten days was instantly killed about 5:45 p.m. Friday on Highway 5, two miles south of Gravois Mills, in a two-car collision. The husband of the dead woman, Curtis Bland, is in dangerous condition at the Bothwell Hospital in Sedalia. Three other persons were also injured in the accident.

Mrs. Waneta Bland, 18, was thrown from the car driven by her husband and died of a broken neck. She also suffered severe lacerations and bruises.

Bland, 23, suffered a crushed pelvis, collapse of both lungs, other chest injuries, lacerations, bruises and a back injury. X-rays were being taken to determine the extent of possible fracture of other bones.

Donald Bell, 37, a passenger in the Bland car, suffered chest injuries, lacerations and bruises. His condition was not believed dangerous. X-ray pictures revealed the fractured ribs.

They were brought to the Bothwell Hospital in the Scrivener ambulance of Versailles, accompanied by Dr. Jack Gunn of the Gunn Clinic, Versailles, who gave emergency treatment at the clinic. In Sedalia, Dr. John E. Lamy and Dr. Robert Stewart, radiologist, gave the report on the X-rays.

Andrew McCormick, Mission, Kan., driver of the second car, suffered a chipped right knee cap, lacerations and bruises.

Mrs. McCormick, his wife, received lacerations on the left side of the face.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormick were treated by Dr. Raymond Lyle at the clinic.

The accident occurred as Bland was driving his 1950 Chevrolet car north toward Versailles, and McCormick was going south in his 1956 Buick enroute to their lake cottage on Lake Road No. 8.

As the Bland car started down a hill toward the Soap Creek bridge, the left rear wheel on the Chevrolet came off of the car and he lost control of the machine. The car started skidding sideways and continued down the blacktop road working its way over into the opposite lane of traffic. McCormick tried to avoid the accident by pulling to the left and was off the road when his car apparently struck the left rear portion of the Chevrolet.

Mrs. Bland was thrown out of the

Postal Inspector Hangs Up Unused Pistol After 44 Years of Service

WICHITA, May 11 (AP)—For 26 years A. L. "Al" Witherspoon has helped fellow inspectors add a sixth word to the post office slogan: "the mails must go through—unmolested."

May 31 he'll step into retirement, ending 44 years and one month of postal service that began in Springfield, Mo., near the farm where he was born 62 years ago.

On the shelf will go the blue steel .38 pistol he has carried for 10 years. It's the third gun he's used in policing Midwest mail service through many adventures. He never fired those guns.

"In fact," he adds with a wry grin, "I only drew my gun twice. I pulled a gun once on an Indian down at Wilburton, Okla.—but I didn't need to. I was young in service—took him into custody for forging a money order. He gave up peacefully, and I was kind of ashamed about it afterwards."

"The other time was at Abilene, Kan., when I arrested a Santa Fe conductor for stealing mail boxes out of station platform mail boxes."

"For two years we'd been receiving complaints from people that letters they had mailed never got there. Letters mailed at Great Bend would be delivered late, bearing postmarks of the Newton transfer office. Four or five inspectors spent their entire time for 18 months on the case.

"I was assigned to check at Abilene. It had been hit seven or eight times in a period of a year and a half. We had the description of a car, with its tag number, that had been seen near one of the robbed boxes."

"One night in August, 1934, I saw the car go behind the depot. I followed and looked down the platform. Against a light, I could see somebody walking toward me."

"I was scared to death—alone at 11:30 at night—and he looked as big as a mountain. When he came up, I stuck my gun in his back and told him, 'Get your hands up. I'm a postal inspector.'"

"When he hesitated, I told him, 'I mean it. I'm scared. I'll blow your guts out!'"

The railroad pleaded guilty. Witherspoon said, and received a four-year sentence from the late Judge Richard Hopkins. He had found a postal lock and made duplicate keys that opened the mail boxes, he said; and launched a mail theft career to get more money for a demanding wife.

She wasn't sentenced because the couple had a young daughter to care for. Witherspoon recalls, "but she got one of the most scathing denunciations I've ever heard, from Judge Hopkins."

Highlights in his service memory, says Witherspoon, are the roundup of an Oklahoma burglary gang in the depression year 1932, trapped by a shiny quarter; and a $278,000 philatelic operation in Nebraska in 1934 that cost five postmasters' jobs and forced sharp revisions of postal regulations.

The shiny quarter—coated with quicksilver in a high school lab—was found in a mass of coins four men were found dividing in a room at Seminole, Okla.

The men were arrested on suspicion. Witherspoon says. The quarter was traced to burglary of a grocery with a postal station at Pierce, Okla. Bits of newspaper clippings about a Waukomis Okla. crime earlier—the marshal overpowered and bound and seven stores burglarized—were found where the men parked their car. Rounded up and sent to prison, says Witherspoon, was a burglary gang headed by a businessman turned gangster, known as "Two-Gun Red."

Skipping real names—he holds no grudges, he said, "and they could all be good citizens now"—Witherspoon added:

Involved in the Nebraska case were five small town postmasters who turned in $278,000 in claims for special delivery refunds in a 14-month period.

Criminal prosecutions were based on falsification of postal records—claims made for more money than they had paid out in special delivery fees.

Key man, says Witherspoon, was a 21-year-old student wise in stamp collecting. He served as a messenger to deliver specials. Stamps used were commemoratives bought in quantity at larger post offices, then stuck on plain cards in denominations totaling as much as 98 cents—multiples of the 10-cent special fee plus 1-cent post card fee.

Canceled by the cooperating postmasters, who got 16th cent out of each 11 cents as their direct

"cut" in the scheme, Witherspoon says, the cards were "delivered" to individuals who signed for them in bulk—as many as 28,000 11-cent "specials" at a time—for as little as a dollar a signature.

The messenger—and several others delivering for him—got the 9-cent delivery fee on each "special," less the postmaster's small cut. Then the stamps were soaked off the cards and sold to stamp dealers at half face value.

For each 11 cents spent for postage the main plotters got 14 1-3 cents back.

The principals got 10-day jail sentences for their postal violations, says Witherspoon; but he wrote tighter regulations adopted to prevent future operations of the sort.

"The operation was so complicated that I was called back to explain it to the first assistant postmaster general, in Washington, later, when he sentenced the men, the judge admitted, 'I still don't understand it.'"

Witherspoon has no quick plans for his retirement, except to "see some baseball games. I'm an avid Wichita Braves fan."

Cites Loss to Public

Says Use of Mail in Medical Fraud Highest in History

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield said today use of the mails to promote medical quackery is at the highest level in history. Reports from Chief Inspector David H. Stephens, Summerfield said, show medical frauds today are more lucrative than any other criminal activity.

"In an era when wonder drugs and great advances in surgery and legitimate medicine have produced true medical miracles, it's puzzling that so many people in all walks of life pay big money for frauds," the Postmaster General commented.

So far this year, postal inspectors have prepared cases for consideration by the Department's General Counsel which, conservatively, represent an annual loss to the Public of $50,000,000.

Under Federal statutes, postal inspectors are charged with investigating any fraudulent activity in which the U. S. mails are used. The most prominent fraudulent activity conducted through the mails today is in the field of fake medical cures.

"Promoters and quacks are so persistent, a unit of inspector specialists is needed in Washington to coordinate investigations of these rackets," Summerfield said.

In addition to handling public complaints, received by the thousands, inspectors obtain materials offered and submit them for extensive examination by medical and chemical experts. The Department has a working agreement under which it contributes to that salary and expenses of doctors and chemists employed by the Food and Drug Administration for this purpose.

They make tests and examinations to determine whether medical materials and devices offered through the mails are misrepresented.

If the evidence indicates that formal action should be undertaken, a complaint setting forth charges of fraudulent misrepresentation is filed with the chief hearing examiner.

The promoter is named respondent, and arrangements made for him to appear with his attorneys at a formal hearing at which both sides of the case are heard on record.

If fraudulent use of the mails is proven, a fraud order is issued for the Postmaster General by Post Office Department General Counsel Abe Goff.

When a fraud order is issued, a promoter can receive no funds through the mail, and for all practical purposes his operations are shut off. All mail sent to him is returned to sender marked "Fraudulent," except that which on its face is clearly not connected with the unlawful enterprise.

In the past 12 months, 46 fraud orders have been issued in medical fraud cases.

"However," Summerfield continued, "rather than attempt to defend the indefensible, 106 persons or firms signed stipulations agreeing to discontinue their questionable enterprise. These phony schemes altogether were known to be taking in at least $225,000 daily. Is it any wonder new frauds spring up every day?"

In addition to administrative action in cases involving fraud, postal inspectors also present cases to United States Attorneys for consideration of criminal prosecution.

If the United States Attorney agrees that there is a basis for criminal prosecution, he will present the evidence to a Federal Grand Jury and if indictment is returned the case will be set for trial. In these circumstances, the postal inspectors lend technical assistance and contribute extensive evidence.

The conviction rate in such cases going to trial is very high, about 99 per cent.

NATIONAL WARNING System, including some 28,000 miles of wire, is shown with its intricate connections to 200 civil defense warning points across the nation. The new network may be used to sound a single national attack alarm from the Federal Civil Defense Administration's National Warning Center at Colorado Springs, or if necessary, from similar warning centers at Stewart Air Force Base, N. Y., or Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif. From the warning points, State and local civil defense hook ups would pass the word along to the people to evacuate or take shelter.

Mother Has Rare Assignment Of Raising Her Son Twice

EL MONTE, Calif. — Mrs. Mabel Werrett is a mother who has carried off a rare assignment. She has raised her son from infancy twice.

Mrs. Werrett reports the boy is "coming along well" now after having again reached the age of 10.

Mrs. Werrett's son, Melvin E. Hewitt, actually is 32. He has served in the Navy, he had a wife once, and he has an 8-year-old daughter.

On Oct. 3, 1951, he injured his brain in a fall. The injury almost killed him. Once his heart stopped. Doctors revived him by massaging his heart.

The accident thrust him mentally back into infancy.

It meant that Mrs. Werrett, a grandmother, was faced with the job of giving a grown man toilet training, showing him how to eat and teaching him to talk.

"Washing and dressing and diapers, and all that," she said.

"It's one thing with a baby, but with a full-grown man" it was much different.

Melvin, who spends much of his time at a Veterans Administration hospital, has no recollection now of most of the things that happened to him in the first 27 years of his life.

He doesn't remember his wife who has divorced him, or his daughter. He doesn't know he was in the Navy.

But doctors say he has been developing well and has attained the age of 10 mentally.

"It's wonderful," the mother said, "to see him coming along so well. He plays ball with the youngsters around here. He sings. And sometimes he's real witty."

Three More Are Received

Entries in 'Yard of the Month'
Contest Must Be in By May 15

Three more entries have been made in the "Yard of the Month" contest. They are: Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Kurley, 1909 Fair View Court, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wertz, Sr., 1715 West 14th, and Mrs. F. W. Koenig, 1015 West Broadway.

Competent out-of-town judges will point score the yards entered each month. Yards need not be perfect to enter. Look around you, see how yours compares with your neighbors. Once you enter the contest you will be more interested and may influence someone else to enter.

Entry blanks and score sheets are available through the Chamber of Commerce office or any one of the Garden Club committee: Mrs. Roy Gerster, Council president; Mrs. Lloyd Knox, Club 1; Mrs. Herbert Seifert, Club 2; Mrs. T. H. Yount, Club 3; Mrs. Fred Brink, Club 4; Mrs. F. W. Koenig, Club 5; Mrs. Joe Williams, Club 6; Mrs. Charley Meyers, Club 7; Mrs. Curtis Howard, Club 8; and Mrs. Clinton Muller, Club 9.

Mrs. Herbert Seifert is chairman of the City Beautiful Committee which is under the civic activities division of the Chamber of Commerce of which Mrs. Everett White is director and Aaron Haller is general chairman. Members of the committee are Don King and Don Anderson.

The attractive metal signs will be displayed in the winning yards each month.

The committee is asking every home owner and citizen of Sedalia to join in promoting this "City Beautiful" contest by keeping their own home and grounds clean, neat and well cared for and to plant blooming flowers or porch boxes where they may be seen from the street.

Citizens are also asked to report unsightly spots, such as tall weeds, accumulation of rubbish, unmowed vacant lots, etc. These reports are to be made to a member of the committee or to the Chamber of Commerce office.

Garden Club members or home owners who do not care to enter their entire grounds are urged to list any unusual or especially beautiful plantings, tree, shrubs, iris or rose garden. These special features will be listed in the newspaper so that interested people may see them.

There are two classes again this year, homes built before Jan. 1, 1950, and homes built after that date.

Three yards will be selected in each class for the months of May, June, July and August. All yards entered in the contest will be point scored each month according to a given scale of points. These score sheets will be kept each month and the points totaled for the four months. The sweepstakes winners will be the greatest number of points scored in each class, one from each of the two classes. These winners will be presented a gift for their yard.

Hungarian Refuge

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — The World Council of Churches reports some 180,000 refugees have tramped out of Hungary in the five months following late October, 1956. Of these, about 130,000 have been resettled.

Some 30,000 went to the United States, 21,000 to Great Britain, 17,000 to Canada, 9,000 to France, 10,000 to Switzerland, 6,000 to Australia and 11,000 to Germany. Some 35,000 are still in Austria.

To help the World Council, churches around the world have given more than half a million dollars earmarked for Hungarian relief. About one-third of the sum came from the United States.

New TV Device Helps Astronomers

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A "tranquizer" for telescopes is getting clearer pictures of our neighbor planets, and may solve the mystery of Mars' so-called canals.

It's a TV device that stops the nervous jumping-about of a planet when viewed through a telescope. The earth's shimmering blanket of air causes this whirling dervish effect.

The television device steadies or tranquilizes the dancing image picked up by a telescope. Snapshot or time-exposure photographs of the TV screen then can be taken to see better how the planet really looks.

This promising new technique was described today to the American Astronomical Society by John H. DeWitt, Robert H. Hardie and Dr. Carl K. Seyfert of the Dyer Observatory, Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.

The image seen by the telescope is picked up by a TV tube. An ingenious electronic arrangement keeps the image centered and steadied, correcting for nervous shimmering when light rays from the planet pass through the earth's air.

The device was not ready when Mars made a very close visit last summer. Astronomers hoped then to solve the puzzle of its faint lines sometimes seen visually by telescope. The lines gave rise to popular speculation they might be "canals."

Mars comes pretty close again this summer, and if the canals can be photographed, the Nashville team hopes to pick them up, Dr. Seyfert said.

The TV stabilizer is being used on a 24-inch telescope. Adapted to larger telescopes, it might reveal more detail of "tranquilized" planets.

A knot is a unit of speed. When a ship goes eight nautical miles an hour, her speed is eight knots. A nautical mile equals 6080.27 feet.

Two Alfalfa Tours Arranged Tuesday Morning, Afternoon

MORNING TOUR—The route traced above is that of the alfalfa tour to be held starting at 9:30 this Tuesday, May 14th. It starts at Joe Klein's on highway C. The Klein farm is located about 11 miles from the intersection of Highway C with Highway 50 at the south east corner of Sedalia and about 1 1/2 miles north of Bahner. The entire route including a little back tracking is about 12 miles.

AFTERNOON TOUR—The above route is of the afternoon alfalfa tour starting at 1:30 this Tuesday, May 14th. The Ritchie farm is located a mile north, 4 miles west and 1 north of Green Ridge. The entire route is about 6 miles.

The purpose of the two alfalfa tours is to get more folks interested in seeding alfalfa on their farms. C. M. Christy, extension soils specialist from the University, will be assisting with the tours. Alfalfa is the best legume hay crop available anywhere and yet probably less than one farm in five is growing the crop in Pettis County.

It is granted that the crop takes a lot of soil preparation but the fertilizer and lime applications made will last for five to ten years. On an annual basis the cost is not high. Actually during the past five years it has been easier to get a stand of alfalfa than grasses.

The morning tour starts at Joe Klein's at 9:30 a.m. Klein lives on the west side of Highway C (Abell road) and about 1 1/2 miles north from Bahner. The 15 acres at Klein's was seeded in the fall of 1955 with a bushel of barley as a nurse crop. Previous to seeding the field was fertilized according to soil test. It made over a ton of hay per acre last year in spite of the insects and drought.

The eight acres operated by Lawrence Zimmerschied is in the Lake Creek bottom on the Vernon Monsees farm. Part of it was seeded in the spring and part in the fall of 1952 under the legume and pasture restoration program after the 1951 floods. He used a

Kindergarten Ice Cream Social Helps Children

It was a bit cold for ice cream Friday night but the children of the K-Jo Kindergarten were so busy they just didn't notice, and they came out with a profit of $215 from their ice cream social which they turned over to Mrs. Jack McCloskey for the Pettis County Crippled Children's Association.

It wasn't just Friday night that the youngsters at the kindergarten were working, they started a long time before and sold lots and lots of tickets. Ann Herrick topped the sales by selling 70 tickets and Jaynee Rhoads and Dennis Patton each sold 40. The mothers and daddies of the children were in on the act, too, with the mothers making cakes for the big occasion and the fathers helping the youngsters set up tables and chairs.

There was lots of fun and things to do besides eating ice cream and cake such as games, a fish pond, and tractor rides. There were balloons and sodapop sold, too, and anywhere you would look during the evening would be youngsters running around with balloons and sodapop bottles.

The kindergarten had a big evening and with it all they did a fine thing in helping other little boys and girls who are not able to run and play as they are.

PBX Club Holds 'Bosses Night' This Tuesday

The PBX Club of Sedalia will have its first "Bosses Night" dinner Tuesday, May 14, at 6:30 p.m. at the Hotel Bothwell, at which Mrs. Dorothy Lough, international PBX president, will be the guest speaker.

Some of the things that Mrs. Lough will stress in her talk to the bosses are that the switchboard is the life line of their company and the switchboard operator is a good will ambassador. She spends more than eight hours a day selling her company and makes more contacts with the public than anyone else in the organization. She makes either a good impression or a bad one. PBX club members put forth every effort to make all impressions good impressions. In effect, the PBX operator is the public relations personnel. In being courteous, helpful and efficient they promote the company's business.

Mrs. Helen Bond, PBX instructor for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., will show movies illustrating amusing incidents between the boss and PBX operator. Mrs. Carl Schrader, music instructor at Smith-Cotton High School, has arranged to present the Boys' Choral group with solo arrangements.

Mrs. Kathryn Davis, president of the Sedalia PBX Club, will preside.

field of second year sweet clover just south of his house.

The last stop will be at Glen Mayfield's which is located about 3/4 mile west and 1 mile south of Green Ridge. It was seeded in the fall of 1955 and made about two ton per acre in spite of the aphids. Mayfield said, "We followed your soil test recommendations including lime, borax, rock phosphate and 200 pounds of 12-12-12 as a starter."

Teenagers Says Mom Should Stay Home, Pop Earn Living

By EUGENE GILBERT
Modern teenagers uphold the old dictum that dad should make the living while mom stays home and makes the living worthwhile.

They tell us they'd like to see mother do most of the housework and have father concentrate on winning the bread. Many even feel that a working mother jeopardizes a home's stability, although few fear the consequences of a father doing a certain amount of housework.

About 57 per cent answered "yes" to the question:

"Do you think it is well for the mother to work just to lift the family standard of living, or would it be better for everybody to get along in the old-fashioned way on money available so that the mother may stay home and attend to the children?"

On the other hand, the percentage of working mothers' offspring who thought their mother should keep on working was 56 per cent. Circumstances evidently alter cases.

One circumstance is recent marriage. Three quarters of the teenagers felt it all right for a young woman to take a job when first married. About half thought she might well keep her job for one to three years; 18 per cent said she should work for an indefinite period.

Getting back to housework for father, our nation-wide survey showed that 67 per cent of the Teenagers approve of dad helping at home...

...but have doubts about mother working outside.

than boys favored increased housework for their fathers. Over 20 per cent of the girls thought dad should do more, but only 15 per cent of the boys.

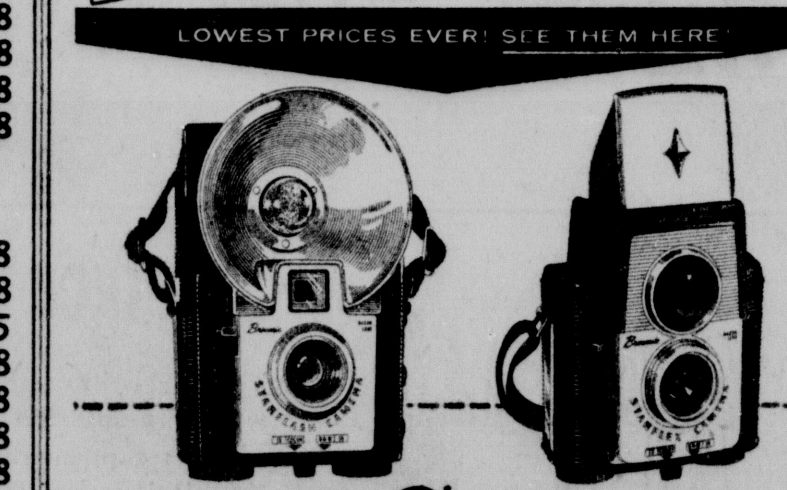

Incidentally, none of the young people interviewed reported their fathers did all the housework, while 29 per cent said dad did none at all. Also, 67 per cent said their fathers carried their share of the load willingly; 4 per cent showed resentment.

What if mother does work—should father still exercise at least some control over the spending of her income? More than half answered yes, but about 37 per cent favored some other spending plan. Of that group, 87 per cent figured that expenditures should be a joint father-mother operation, while 11 per cent figured each should be in charge of spending the money he or she earned.

flected in their thoughts on the stability of the home.
A slight majority said they felt the home is more stable if father helps with the housework and 39 per cent said it didn't make much difference. Only 5 per cent said they thought father's efforts to help mother hurt home stability.
But—and it's an important 'but'—59 per cent said they felt the home is less stable with mother working outside. Only 7 per cent thought mother's outside job helped keep the home more stable while 27 per cent thought it was the same either way.
Perhaps a 17-year-old Massachusetts boy summed up the feelings of the 5 per cent who thought the home is less stable with dad helping mom.
Fathers, he said, are "no help at all. They only get in the way."

Kroger's Give Scholarships

A total of 101 college scholarships will be offered to high school graduates under the Kroger Scholarship Program for 1957, it was announced today by Mr. J. M. Mullen vice-president of the retail food firm's Kansas City division, which operates stores in this area.

Two additional schools, Louisiana State University and the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, will be included this year, Mr. Mullen said. Value of the one-year awards will also be increased this year to $250 each, he added. They will be available next fall at land-grant colleges in 19 midwestern and southern states in which Kroger operates, as well as California and Florida where the company's produce procurement offices are located. The scholarships are offered to students planning to major in agriculture and home economics.

Begun several years ago, the program has helped more than 1,000 young men and women to start their college careers.

"Kroger is proud to have had the privilege of helping these young people get a college education," Mr. Mullen said. "Our country is strengthened by the contributions they are making in building tomorrow's world... shaping tomorrow's destiny."

Application forms can be obtained directly from the land-grant college in the student's state. Selection of winners will be made by the school's scholarship committee, and application should be made directly to the dean of the college of agriculture.

Awards are made on the basis of scholastic achievements in high school as well as leadership qualities demonstrated in school, church or youth organizations. Need for financial aid may also be considered.

Colleges participating in the Kroger Scholarship Plan and the number of scholarships to be awarded at each are: Alabama Polytechnic Institute, 4; University of Arkansas, 4; Arkansas Agricultural, Mechanical and Normal College, 2; University of California, 2; University of Florida, 2; University of Georgia, 4; University of Illinois, 6; Purdue University, 6; Kansas State College, 4; University of Kentucky, 4; Kentucky State College, 2; Louisiana State University, 2; Michigan State University, 6; Mississippi State College, 4; University of Missouri, 6; Lincoln University, 2; North Carolina State College, 4; The Women's College of the University of North Carolina, 4; Agricultural and Technical College of North Carolina, 2; Ohio State University, 8; Pennsylvania State University, 4; University of Tennessee, 4; Tennessee Agricultural and Industrial State University, 3; Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, 2; Virginia Polytechnic In-

Land of Plenty

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Anastasiya Filimonova, 63, didn't realize there was so much of everything in the United States when she left Moscow for Detroit.

So when her plane stopped at Copenhagen for fuel, she bought five oranges to bring as a gift to her daughter, Mrs. Alexandra Novitsky.

Mrs. Novitsky accepted the gift graciously, but later took her mother to a Detroit supermarket. "I come with five oranges," the mother exclaimed, "and here they have mountains of them!"

Nature's Law

BENTON, Ky. (AP)—Each year at the Tater Day festival, youngsters would run amok with water pistols. Finally, the city fathers outlawed sales of the toys.

But that failed to keep the crowd from getting soaked this year. A steady rain fell all day.

Pettis County Extension Club Members Tour State University

UNIVERSITY TOUR — This group of Pettis County Home Economics Extension Club members toured the University of Missouri Monday, May 6. This picture was taken on the south side of the Student Union Building facing Gwynn Hall, the Home Economics Building. On the front row left to right is Miss Audra Robertson, state agent; Mrs. Kathryn Zimmerman, state leader

The Pettis County Home Economics Extension Club Council sponsored an educational tour to the University of Missouri May 6. Fifty-four members traveled to Columbia by two chartered busses of the South Central Stage Bus Lines.

The tour was directed by F. L. Moritz, administrative assistant for the dean of the college of agriculture. The group left Convention Hall, Liberty Park in Sedalia at 7:30 a.m. and arrived at the Foremost Guernsey Farm at 9 a.m. where they were met by Moritz and the manager of the farm, Lawrence Rainey. The herd for this farm was given to the University of Missouri by J. C. Penney.

After a tour of the farm the group went to Campbell Harrison House located at 1315 Wilson Ave. This home is for University home economics students who need a home at a minimum expense. This is being made possible through the cooperative efforts of the girls doing their own work and by careful planning and buying. The Home Economics Extension Clubs in Missouri support the Campbell Harrison House with money contribution, which are used to help pay the insurance and the payments on the purchase of the house.

The group then went to the Hall where they were welcomed by Agricultural Extension Service Director J. W. Burch, State Leader of Home Economics Mrs. Kathryn Zimmerman, State Agent Audra Robertson and Dr. Margaret Mangel, head of the school of home economics. Members of the home economics staff conducted a tour of the home economics building where they observed research being done on home appliances and frozen food. In addition, they saw the many classrooms for home economics students.

Lunch was enjoyed in the Student Union Cafeteria after which a tour was made of the Student Union Building, new Jesse Auditorium and Jesse Hall, where Irwin F. Coyle, assistant to President Elmer Ellis, welcomed the group. The next stop was the new medical center. An interesting tour was conducted by members of the staff. Outstanding things observed here were the efficient kitchen, chapel, recovery room, location of the 13 operating rooms, and equipment for the best in research in medical science.

The last stop was the KOMU-TV Station on Highway 63 south of Columbia. Here the group had a chance to see what has to happen behind the screen in order to bring the TV programs to their homes.

The group arrived back in Sedalia at 6:45 p.m. with a much broader knowledge of their own University of Missouri. Those making the tour were: Mrs. Fred Staley, Jr., Mrs. Wilbur Garrett, Mrs. S. G. Monsees, Mrs. Helen Lloyd, Mrs. G. E. Stevens, Mrs. Ernie Eldson, Mrs. Cletis Allen, Mrs. Walter Kraft, Mrs. Lawson Smith, Mrs. Charles Brandhorst, Mrs. John Butterworth, Mrs. H. J. Sees Success For Vehicle Safety Check

What will prove to be Missouri's biggest vehicle safety check program got into full swing this month with more than 70 towns of more than 1,000 people participating.

Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the Missouri Highway Patrol, said the program "without a doubt will be one of the most successful ever put on in the state."

In the past, the Patrol chief said, the normal participation for Missouri was 15 towns and cities, "but the popularity and success of the Vehicle Safety Check campaign made it imperative that we expand the program."

All towns and cities with more than 1,000 population were invited to participate in the campaign. Of the 125 mailed invitations, 58 per cent agreed to active participation.

Although there is no specific date in May for setting up auto check lanes, many Missouri localities are already in the midst of the program. One Central Missouri town, for instance, checked more than 900 autos during the first two of the checking period.

The need for the safety check became apparent to state and national officials when it was found that one out of every five autos was in need of repairs and was a potential death trap.

Col. Waggoner said "the great majority of drivers have no idea when something goes wrong with their cars. And those drivers are risking oblivion because of their ignorance. It's what the driver can't see that makes trouble."

"We need state-wide participation to make the campaign really effective. The vehicle safety check offers a community an excellent opportunity to actively combat the modern menace of highway deaths. A safety check should be a must in May for every driver."

prizes for each age group, 10-17, 17-21 and persons over 21.

During the afternoon, judo and trampoline demonstrations will also be given, ponies will be available for the kids to ride and a controlled model airplane contest is planned.

Mount Herman WMS Will Paper Two Rooms

The WMS of Mount Herman Church met at the home of Mrs. E. C. Abney at 2 p.m. Wednesday. The Watchword was Habakkuk, the 2nd and 14th verses, which everyone repeated.

The opening prayer was by Mrs. P. V. Fiddle, and "The Faith of the Mothers" was read by Mrs. Henry Hutchinson.

The title of the program was "Broken Sister."

After the program a short business meeting was held at which time plans were made to paper two rooms for a woman in the neighborhood.

The closing prayer was by Mrs. O. E. Richards.

The next meeting will be held on June 2 and will be an all day meeting with Mrs. Dewey Swope.

For The Needy — Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish relief agencies distributed more than 1,140,000 (b) pounds of U. S. surplus foods free to the needy abroad during nine months ended last March 31.

This was disclosed in an announcement by the American Council of Voluntary Agencies for Foreign Service, including some 4 agencies. It said the shipments of foods — cheese, powdered milk, beans, corn, rice, wheat, flour and cornmeal — had a total value of $99,895,942 (m).

The End — A Valdeese motorist stopped his car on Mineral Springs mountain to retrieve a hubcap.

He got the hubcap all right. But as he did his car rolled down a 100-foot embankment.

Music In Her Heart

As the 34th annual National Music Week draws to a close Sedalians may feel proud of the manner in which it was observed here. Leaders, their committees and all those who participated in encouraging appreciation of music among adults and children, found inspiration in cooperation they encountered.

Many of these persons could be recognized by name, particularly the younger leaders of the Helen G. Steele Music Club. Among them, too, are those who come in direct daily contact with Sedalia's children in the schools and in special teaching capacities.

But it seems agreed among those personally interested in the musical life of our community that Sedalia's development in this culture is distinctly related to the influence of Mrs. Edwin F. Yancey.

Arising from a sick bed, Mrs. Yancey's personal appearance at Music Week functions presented before service clubs, at Smith-Cotton High School and elsewhere, inspired those who had the tasks of the program to even greater effort.

Mrs. Yancey's time and talent given to Sedalia's progress in the Music field began early in life, back in the 1880's. When she decided to become a musician she knew preparation was necessary. She availed herself of every opportunity our city afforded, then went to New York where she did advanced study in voice, piano and organ. The significance of her success was in preparation. But her friends would like to credit a good measure of this to her character, tact, charm, friendliness and loyalty. In these personal qualities she is identified by the entire community.

Mrs. Yancey's influence has been felt by thousands of musicians before and after she became life president of the Helen G. Steele Music Club in 1920. She is a member of the State Board of the Missouri Federation and a life member of the National Federation of Music Clubs.

Mrs. Yancey's devotion to the cultural life of her community becomes a pattern for which National Music Weeks are observed—to honor music by wholehearted participation, through personal performance in the most democratic arts; to encourage every individual to become more music conscious, to recognize the value of music education, and to increase interest in the works of the American composer.

Many thousands have felt the influence and inspiration of Mrs. Yancey during her long lifetime here. Somehow the boys and girls of yesteryear, the men and women who have grown up in our community, and even those who have adopted Sedalia as their home, feel it is appropriate on this special day to pay tribute to a woman who truly can be called Sedalia's living Mother Of Music—

Mrs. Edwin F. Yancey.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Abolishes Nurseries; Now a Tree Lover

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Ezra Taft Benson has run into trouble on his somersault on tree-growing. First he killed all government nurseries; now he is urging more money for nurseries. The trouble comes primarily from his fellow Republicans.

Shortly after he became Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra junked all department of agriculture nurseries. He claimed it was not the job of the government to grow trees, and he turned the nurseries over to the states — even if the states didn't want them.

At Winona, Minn., Benson gave a thriving U.S. nursery to the state of Minnesota. The state proceeded to remove all trucks, tools, tractors, the overhead irrigation system and some of the choice nursery stock. Then Minnesota abandoned the site.

The site is now owned by the Winona Sand and Gravel Co., which purchased the once-thriving U. S. government nursery for the bargain price of $3,000. The price included a Butler building valued at $12,000, plus all irrigation equipment that could not be moved, including a pump, motor, etc., plus other minor buildings.

In brief, the nursery which once grew thousands of trees is now a gravel pit.

But three years later, when Secretary Benson started his soil bank plan, he suddenly discovered he would need trees.

Republicans Object

So, because it's too late to start U.S. nurseries and because he doesn't want to reverse himself that much, Benson is now pumping $6,000,000 of federal funds into state nurseries whether the states want the money or not.

Benson is giving the $6,000,000 in direct grants to the states, without any matching funds, a policy directly contrary to the Eisenhower policy of making the states put up matching money for federal aid.

The House Appropriations Subcommittee, discovering what Benson was doing, objected. They found that the grants were made by the Secretary of Agriculture himself.

"Why did you oppose such subsidies in 1955," asked Congressman Budge of Idaho, "Yet now you have them in the budget?"

Congressman Jensen of Iowa also objected. He doubted whether the Agriculture Department had legal authority to subsidize state nurseries to sell trees at below cost to farmers.

The plan for U. S. funds for state nurseries is going ahead anyway, with the expectation that farmers will plant 5,000,000 acres in trees under the soil bank plan. Actually farmers have signed contracts to plant only 7 per cent of that number in 1956-57. Since 1940 farmers have planted only 10,000,000 acres of trees, and their rate of planting prior to the soil bank had reached about 1,000,000 acres per year.

So they will have to do a lot of planting to hit 5,000,000 acres per year any time in the near future.

Mayors Get The Run-Around

Eleven U.S. Mayors who oppose a new natural gas bill have been getting the silent run-around from Rep. Oren Harris (D., Ark.), chairman of the House Commerce Committee which is now hearing testimony on the 1957 natural gas bill.

The new version of the bill, endorsed by President Eisenhower at a recent press conference, is basically the same as the Harris bill the President vetoed a year ago.

Southwestern natural gas producers, who seek greater freedom in raising prices, had their day in court this week before the Harris committee. Next week opponents of the bill are slated to appear.

However, Harris has been reluctant to schedule the "U.S. Mayors Committee on Natural Gas Legislation," which wields the weightiest influence against the Harris Bill. Headed by New York City Mayor Robert Wagner, it speaks for 12,000,000 gas consumers, most of whom don't want their monthly gas payments raised.

Chairman Harris has delayed granting the mayors a specific time to testify next week, simply saying he's too busy to consider the matter.

Ike and Labor

President Eisenhower is holding up a special labor message he intended to send Congress until his advisers can make up their minds what to do about the Senate revelations on labor racketeering.

Ike is impatient to recommend strong legislation and has complained to the palace guard that the Democrats are getting all the credit for cleaning up the unions. However, Secretary of Labor Mitchell has warned him not to recommend legislation that might be too drastic.

He still wants to send up a strong labor message condemning corruption and has ordered Attorney General Brownell to come up with some positive proposals.

Note — Senator Ives of New York has privately recommended that the Senate Rackets Committee turn its labor investigation over to a special commission. Otherwise, the Senate will spend years digging into 30,000 leads from labor unions which have poured in to the committee. The Senate's job, Ives claims, is to pass legislation to correct labor racketeering, then let a special commission handle the cleanup.

"Real Big Time, Pal, Real Big Time"

Mother

A mother must be very wise
To guide her youngster right,
She must be able to advise
And watch it day and night;
Such sacrifices must she make,
A mother never can
Know just what she can undertake
Or ever how to plan,
For quickly can a child be ill
And somehow, just no other
No matter who, her place can fill.
A youngster wants it's mother;
So thrilled is she at its first tooth.
First step, first word, first date,
From babyhood clear through its youth
Its life does she create;
And she will teach it to be kind,
To look for nature's beauty,
For loving mothers are not blind
To things that are their duty;
With honesty their hearts she fills
And teaches right from wrong;
She teaches them the little things
That every child should know,
The character that always clings
To youngsters as they grow;
She knows that they will follow, too,
The kind of life she lives
And they reflect in what they do.
The training that she gives,
And then, of course, there comes a day
When she can off' recall
When they have grown and gone away
Things that they did when small,
Yes, memories are living dreams
Of which our lives are made
That everybody has, it seems,
And never, never fade;
They're little things, like mother's kiss,
Like cookies in a jar,
Like special days filled with bliss,
We all know what they are;
It's memories of her cheery smile,
It's memories of her voice,
And always she gave us the choice
And best things all the while;
It's little things, all mothers do,
The things she fixes to eat,
The things she did as we grew
That make those memories sweet.

Ruth Millett Says

Fight Boredom to Live, Lengthen Husband's Life

If you don't want to be a widow, better see to it that your husband doesn't get bored.

That's something wives should be able to figure out for themselves from a recent statement of Dr. Edward L. Bortz, Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia.

The doctor didn't actually tell women that. What he said was: "The major dilemma of today's 'young man of 65' is that he becomes old because he is bored."

But any woman knows that a wife has a great deal to do with whether or not her husband gets bored with living.

A man isn't likely to get bored if his wife has a great deal to do with whether or not her husband gets bored with living.

A man isn't likely to get bored if his wife isn't willing to settle down to a dull, routine existence.

To keep a man from slipping into boredom a woman should begin to make things happen when the couple is still young.

She should always be full of some bright dream for the future. She should be an enthusiastic supporter of his ideas, instead of a wet blanket. She should be willing to take an occasional chance.

She shouldn't be disinterested when he asks her to go fishing with him or to accompany him on a business trip. She should reflect his interest when he gets enthusiastic over anything from hi-fi to setting up a home workshop.

Perhaps, instead of talking about the day when he can retire and loaf, she should be talking of the day when they can do some of the things they've always wanted to do but haven't had time for.

Above all, she should see to it that, even though her husband has to work hard to support the family, he never settles down to a treadmill existence.

No won't if she widens their cir-

They May Gird for Battle

Pending Cabinet Changes Make Conservatives Uneasy

By JOSEPH A. DEAR
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — President Ike, according to persistent reports, soon will field a new cabinet team.

Those now in the cabinet whose departure is predicted include: Treasury Secretary George Humphrey, Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks, Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson, Defense Secretary Charles Wilson, and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

At the time, Ike's designation of Humphrey, Weeks and Benson, was widely interpreted as a gracious gesture toward the Taft wing of the GOP. If they are replaced by "modern" Republicans that will be convincing evidence that Ike is determined to reshape his party.

Modern Republicans hold three cabinet positions. Fred Seaton, a conservative who is an Ike-man without reservations, is Secretary of the Interior. Secretary of Labor James Mitchell is a GOP liberal, and even union chiefs concede his performance has been exceptional. Marion Folsom, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare is a liberal who came from big business. Welfare spending is on the rise—that's one reason the budget is up this year—and Folsom gets the credit for that.

If Ike recruits Folsom types for expected openings at Treasury, Commerce and Agriculture, Republicans of conservative persuasion may gird for battle. Already they suspect that President Ike has no place at his table for them.

It is widely believed that the successors to Dulles and Wilson have been tentatively chosen and are undergoing on-the-job training.

Donald Quarles, ex-Secretary of the Air Force, is Deputy Secretary of Defense. He could step into Wilson's shoes without disrupting the Pentagon operation. Quarles, who comes from big business and who has a background in research has won respect because of his balance and brains.

Christian Herter, ex-Governor of Massachusetts, is number two man at the State Department. His promotion would assure continuity of policy.

Four years ago the betting was that Secretary Wilson would not last. He was arrogant and insensitive to subtle political forces.

Engine Charley has not only lasted. He has gained the genuine, if somewhat grudging, respect of those with whom he has come in contact. That includes Senators, Congressmen and reporters.

At his last press conference, the one in which he said his Chamber of Commerce friends gave him a "pain" by grumbling about taxes when they were so prosperous, Wilson was roundly applauded by newsmen. It's the only time in the memory of living reporters that ever happened.

Wilson has a great talent. It is his mastery of straight talking in simple English. He avoids self-censoring words — kind cruelty, dynamic moderation, speedy slowness, progressive moderate, moderate progressive, etc.

More often than not, his pungent descriptions are right. Last year Congress increased the appropriation for the Air Force. A "phony" maneuver, Wilson snorted. Senate Democrats bristled. But Wilson was right. Congress knew Ike couldn't and wouldn't spend the extra money. So it was a phony.

But even if he irritates, Wilson does impress the lawmakers. The simple reason is that if they ask what he thinks, he'll tell them. They'll get a straight answer, even if they choke when they hear it.

That isn't Dulles' way. At least the Senators think it isn't. Dulles will swallow, blink through his glasses, and fuzzle. He can and has fended with inquiring Senators for days on end, never quite answering or refusing to answer questions put to him. His mental agility is conceded, but Senators have an uneasy "I've been had" feeling after a brush with Dulles.

Easter Seals Providing Worthy Medical Projects

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

It is appropriate following the Easter Seal campaign of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults for funds, to discuss the splendid work of that organization in aiding unfortunate youngsters and grownups who have been handicapped at birth, or by injury or disease.

The last annual report of the society pointed out that during 1956 119,547 crippled children and 25,183 handicapped adults received direct service by the society through over 1600 East Seal affiliates in all 48 states and the territories.

Today professional, technical and administrative workers in the association number more than 1780 and the end is not yet in sight. The organization continued to expand during 1956. It maintains treatment, rehabilitation and residential centers, services for the home-bound, speech and special summer treatment services, nursery and preschool centers, special education projects, equipment loan pools, sheltered workshops, residential and day camps, home employment programs, craft and sale outlets, transportation of crippled children, social service, swimming and recreational programs, scholarship and fellowship programs, vocational guidance and counseling services and several other activities.

As though this list were not enough, the society is planning to break ground for a seven-hundred-thousand-dollar mobile rehabilitation center in Burlingame, Calif.; a beach camp in Los Angeles; rehabilitation centers in Miami, Fla., Evansville, Ind., and elsewhere; a sheltered workshop in Rochester, Minn.; a permanent crippled children's summer camp in Virginia and several other similar large-scale constructions.

It should be obvious from the mere listing of these activities that this society is exerting a remarkable influence in the better care of our handicapped citizens, both the young and old. The society's training programs should also lead to even greater knowledge and improved methods of prevention and treatment.

The Society publishes a monthly magazine called "The Crippled Child" ($2.11 South LaSalle Street, Chicago 3, Ill.) which is particularly helpful to those with a direct interest in the problem. Support of this efficiently run organization is heartily recommended.

The Mature Parent

Helpful Spirit More Vital Than Any Particular Chore

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence

When this school year began, it was with the rule that 11-year-old Joyce make her bed every morning.

She resists it. Joyce "makes" her bed by pulling her coverlet up over her rumpled bedclothes, leaving an untidy valance of sheet and blanket drooping from under it.

Her mother, figuring the resistance was due to school-morning haste, tried waking her half an hour earlier. But the extra time has not produced a neatly made bed. It's just enabled Joyce to say, "I was too sleepy to make it right" instead of saying, "I didn't have time to make it right."

The tension and criticism involved with Joyce's resistance to this rule is making all cooperation between her and her mother increasingly difficult.

To reduce it, it may be wise to repeal the bed-making rule and say to Joyce, "In what other way do you want to contribute to your home?"

Sometimes a child will resent a rule we have made so much that it becomes too costly to try and enforce it.

Then, like the Congress that repealed the prohibition law, we do well to withdraw our demand for the specific obedience — and ask for a cooperation the child can more willingly give.

Otherwise, our inflexibility can set up chronic resistance. Just as the law enforcement agencies of the prohibition era became involved in an unending, undeclared, expensive war with the American people, we get caught in such war for the child's submission. In the end, nobody is disciplined.

What makes it hard for us to compromise with a child's resistance to some chore like making his bed or hanging up his coat is our over-evaluation of these actions.

They are not of first value. The first value is the development of his spirit of helpfulness.

Once this is clearly seen, flexibility and confidence return to our treatment of him. We no longer limit Joyce's spirit of helpfulness to the making of her bed, but see that it can express itself through a wide variety of cooperative actions.

So, freed from the belief that we must force bed-making from Joyce, we find it the simplest thing in the world to say, "All right, darling, I'll make your bed for you. In return will you promise to scour my refrigerator thoroughly every Saturday morning?"

"How old are you, Mother?" asked little Meladee.

"How old do you think I am?" queried the mother.

The child looked at her for a minute and then said, "Oh, about 45."

"I'm 26," said the mother.

"Well," said the child thoughtfully, "you've got quite a few years left, haven't you?" — M. L.

Girl Scout Troops Hold Awards Meeting

Neighborhood "A" of the Old Trails Council of Girl Scouts held its court of awards and Brownie Fly-up ceremony Sunday, May 5, at the Girl Scout camp. Brownies, Girl Scouts, leaders and parents were all in attendance. A very impressive flag ceremony was presented by Troop No. 9 of Horace Mann School with Mrs. Elmer Hilgedick, leader, and Mrs. Abe Silverman, co-leader. Mrs. T. J. McNally, neighborhood chairman, gave the welcome and introduced Miss Sandy Cheft, executive director; Mrs. Betty Bailey, personnel chairman; Mrs. Ralph Hamlin, neighborhood "B" chairman, and Harry Lambirth, troop camp site chairman. Lambirth then led the groups to the camp fire site, where Mrs. Lambirth led the girls in a Girl Scout song. The Brownies and their leaders formed a half circle in the middle of the circle and Girl Scouts formed the other half-circle. As each leader called out a Brownie's name, a Girl Scout stepped forward and pinned the wings on the Brownie and then took her by the hand and led her to the Girl Scout group.

Following are the troop numbers and leaders:

Mark Twain School, Troop 18, Mrs. Ruth Woolery, leader, and Troop 63, Mrs. Paul Alpert, leader. Broadway School, Troop 11, Mrs. Forrest Yoder, leader, Mrs. George Lockett and Mrs. Chester Eding, co-leaders.

After the Brownies had "flown up" and joined the Girl Scouts, all repeated the Girl Scout oath and sang the Girl Scout song.

Fourth Straight for Tribe, Al Smith Provides 2-1 Edge

CLEVELAND, May 11.—(AP)—An eighth inning home run by Al Smith broke up a pitching duel between Bob Lemon and Tom Morgan today and gave the Cleveland Indians their fourth straight win as they defeated Kansas City, 2-1.

Lemon, who gave up eight hits, posted his third win of the season, against three losses, while Morgan's record became 2-3.

The Indians jumped to an early lead today, scoring a run in the first after Gene Woodling walked, took second on Smith's grounder and scored on Vic Wertz' single. Kansas City tied the score in the seventh when Jim Pisoni singled, Morgan sacrificed and Irv Noren, pinch hitting for Joe DeMaestri, singled.

Morgan, who gave up 9 hits, allowed a hit in every inning but the second. After their first inning tally the Indians failed to score until Smith's homer.

Lemon was replaced by Don Mossi, who retired the last two batters in the ninth.

Boyer Singles to Put Across Birds' Winning Run in 10th

ST. LOUIS, May 11—Two errors and an intentional walk loaded the bases in the tenth inning and Ken Boyer ended the game with a single as the St. Louis Cardinals dropped the Milwaukee Braves today, 8-7.

The loss put the Braves into a first-place tie with the Cincinnati Redlegs.

With Ray Crone on the mound in relief, Al Dark opened the tenth with a grounder to Danny O'Connell, who fumbled the ball.

Joe Adcock then tossed Stan Musial's grounder into left field, trying for a play on Dark.

Jim King was intentionally passed as Manager Fred Haney dictated the strategy.

Boyer, who had homered in the second inning, singled to make the Braves and Crone losers.

The winner in relief was side-arming Larry Jackson who came on in the eighth inning to leave two Milwaukee runners stranded. The victory was Jackson's third against one loss.

Stan Musial and Wally Moon poled two-run home runs for the Cardinals and Hank Aaron flicked one for the Braves.

Warren Spahn started for the Braves and couldn't hold three leads, being roughed up for seven runs and 12 hits in the six and two-thirds innings he worked.

Young bonus baby Lindy McDaniel was Manager Fred Hutchinson's choice but he only went four and two-thirds innings, being swatted for five runs and eight hits.

Mike Souchak Leads in Hot Springs Golf

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., May 11 —Burly Mike Souchak cut five strokes off par with a 67 today to take the lead after 54 holes in the $20,000 Hot Springs Open Golf tournament, but the former Duke University football player is not sitting on a comfortable perch.

Souchak's 207 total gives him a 2-stroke advantage on the field, but eight of the nation's top golfers were tied at 209 and five more deadlocked at 210.

Souchak, who plays out of Grosinger's, was the halfway leader with 138. Besselink shot a respectable 71 today, but sub-par golf was the rule rather than the exception, and Besselink was the only one of the eight runnersup after today's round.

The late finishers narrowly missed a heavy thundershower which drenched the course minutes after the last score was posted.

Stacked up with Besselink at 139 were Bill Casper of Bonita, Calif.; Jackie Burke Jr., of Kiamasha Lake, N.Y.; Peter Thomson of Melbourne, Australia; Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex.; Jimmy Demaret of Kiamasha Lake; Fred Haas of New Orleans; and Lloyd Mangrum of Apple Valley, Calif.

Valley Retains MCAU Track Title In Circuit Meet

MARSHALL, Mo., May 11—Missouri Valley retained its MCAU track championship today with 93½ points in the 35th annual conference meet, while Westminster took top honors in golf and tennis.

Tarkio got 84½ points in track. William Jewell 68½, Westminster 34, Drury 18½, and Central 4½. Culver-Stockton did not compete. Valley broke a mile relay record that had stood 29 years. The time of 3:25.5 was the only new mark set.

Bob Clark of Valley and George Phelps of Tarkio each scored 18 points for individual honors.

In golf Westminster scored 650, Drury 651, Valley 658, Central 666, Culver-Stockton 696 and Jewell 703. Westminster's golfers were John Panettiere 158, Art Olson 161, George Harlan 165, and Fred Bates, 166.

Medalist among the 24 golfers was Charles Reid, Valley, with 2-over-par 73-73-146.

In tennis Westminster's Jack Gunter and Paul Rabe won the doubles crown and advanced to the singles finals which they will play off on their home court later.

Indian Rookie Marias Sidelined

Plan Examination to Determine Nature of Score's Eye Injuries

CLEVELAND, May 11 —Some time next week young Herb Score may get a good indication of how well his injured right eye will recover.

During an inspection of his puffed face this morning he told an eye specialist he can see better out of the eye than before.

But as yet the specialist, Dr. Charles I. Thomas, has not had an opportunity to peer inside the damaged eye and see whether permanent damage has been done to the retina or other elements.

It was last Tuesday night, in a game here with the New York Yankees, that the 23-year-old southpaw pitcher was struck by a line drive from Gil McDougald's bat. His eye bled and his nose was broken.

Another Cleveland Indian was out of action today. Rookie Roger Marias, a centerfielder, collided at second base last night with Milt Graff of the Kansas City Athletics.

At first it was thought he had suffered only bruised ribs. But X-rays today at Lakeside Hospital—where Score is a patient in a darkened room—disclosed that Marias has two fractured ribs. Dr. Donald A. Kelly said the rookie probably would be out of action for 10 days or two weeks. Marias has a batting average of .315 and leads his team in homers (5) and runs batted in (16).

Score's eye will be given a more careful examination "early next week," it was reported at the hospital.

Dr. Thomas said "the big factor" will be to learn "the degree of perception."

"Even then we won't know too much until he starts testing his visual acuity (sharpness) and his visual field. Barring complication I think perhaps we can have a full evaluation within a week."

Chevrolet's new Triple-Turbine
take-off!

Sweet, Smooth and Sassy—that's Chevy! Model illustrated, the Bel Air Sport Sedan with Body by Fisher.

Chevrolet's new Turboglide is the first and only triple-turbine automatic transmission in any car. You can feel the difference from your very first take-off!

Just slip Turboglide into "D" for "Drive" and pay it no mind. There is no "Low" or other positions to worry about because with Turboglide they just aren't needed.

For this is the automatic with triple turbines. One for quicksilver starts from a standstill. Another for cream-smooth cruising. And a third turbine that teams up with the other two for passing response that's safer all the way.

In GR (Grade Retarder) position Turboglide helps slow you down—saves your brakes on long, steep hills.

When you team Turboglide with Chevy's new Positraction rear axle, you've really got it made! This new engineering development delivers power to the wheel that grips, not the wheel that slips. You have surer, safer control on any road surface.

Spike Jones Changes Style On TV Show

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — Have you met the new Spike Jones?

The famed music deprecator hasn't thrown away his washboard, cowbells and six-shooter, but you'll notice a difference on his Tuesday night CBS-TV show. The band even does several numbers without an auto horn.

"I'd like to have guest stars like Isaac Stern and Jose Iturbi," said Spike. "We might have Iturbi play a rock 'n' roll number, but he'd also do a straight piece."

What's this—Spike going long-hair? No fear of that. But he is undergoing a transition.

"I felt the need for it when we were playing concerts," he remarked. "People were always asking why we didn't play some straight numbers. We did play straight behind Helen (Grayco, his singing wife) and the specialty acts, but the rest of the time we gagged it up."

"When you only have two and a half hours for a show, you have to give the people what they expect."

But Spike realized there was a perilous future in offering the public one kind of music. He started the transition last fall with an album of Christmas tunes. Included were standbys like "All I Want For Christmas Is My Two Front Teeth." But most of the songs were played straight.

This is Spike's second outing with a regular show. Four years ago, he was on Saturday nights and made a respectable showing against Jackie Gleason. But the show was erased by some network maneuvering.

"Maybe it was a good thing," Spike observed. "That was during the Berle-Gleason era of television when everyone thought you had to hit the audience over the head with entertainment. Since then, Dinah Shore and Perry Como have come along to prove you can entertain with an easy approach and good music."

"I think I'll last longer this way." But don't worry about his losing the old Jones touch. He has a new album called "Dinner Music For People Who Aren't Very Hungry." Among the hi-fi effects: a violin pushed through a garbage disposal.

Girl Scouts Tour Whiteman Air Base

Some 330 Brownies, Intermediate and Senior Girl Scouts and their leaders from Sedalia, Marshall and New Franklin were taken on a very impressive conducted tour of Whiteman AFB this past week.

The girls were met at the west entrance of the Base by men from the motor pool who provided buses for the tour. Airmen from the Public Information office and Air Police conducted the tour around the base and through the hangars, parachute and survival shops. The highlight of the tour came when a crew from A. R. S. took the girls through a KC97.

The girls were served a delicious lunch in Dining Hall No. 3 by the men of the Food Service Squadron. The tour ended at the Happy Hollow Service Club with a social hour.

Demand for Books on Birds
Increases As Summers Nears

With summer approaching, requests have increased at the Sedalia Public Library for books on bird-watching and birds. Although bird watching has become a year-round hobby with many people, at this time of year the demand increases for books on bird identification, bird facts, suggestions for the building of bird houses, bird baths, and other devices for attracting the birds.

Anyone who would like to know more about the birds in this area will find the following handbooks useful: "An Introduction to Birds," by John Kieran, which is a guide to about 100 of the more common birds of North America; "A Field Guide to the Birds," by R. T. Peterson, and "How to Know the Birds," by R. T. Peterson.

The amateur bird-watcher will find helpful suggestions on how to start this hobby in "A Guide to Bird Watching," by J. J. Hickey, "How to Watch Birds," by Roger Barton, and "My Hobby Is Bird Watching," by Mrs. M. P. Pettit. Advice on how to bring birds into the yard or small garden by supplying them with food, shelter, and water is given in "The ABC of Attracting Birds," by A. M. Peterson; "Songbirds in Your Garden," by J. K. Terres, and "Birds in Your Back Yard," by T. S. Pettit. Instructions on building many kinds of birdhouses are given in "Birdhouses," by Paul V. Champion, and "Birdhouses," by L. D. Perry.

For the man or woman who likes to read interesting and curious facts about birds and their behavior, the library has: "The Birds Are Yours," by R. S. Lemmon.

Humorous Fashion Show For D. of I.

The Daughters of Isabella met Wednesday night with Mrs. Del Imberger presiding.

The meeting opened with the pledge to the flag.

It was voted to give $5 to the Red Cross, $25 to the Bishop's Relief Fund, and to outfit a child for its first communion service.

Also, it was reported that 2,200 pounds of clothing had been sent to the Pope's warehouse.

A former member of the D. of I. is now in Port Allegheeny where her group is making cancer dressing. Since there is such a need of material for these dressing she requested the Sedalia D. of I. to help out by sending materials which they plan to do.

Mrs. Imberger will attend the state convention to be held May 17, 18 and 19 at the Robidoux Hotel in St. Joseph.

The social meeting was highlighted with a humorous fashion show where the committee members modeled costumes they had designed themselves. This was followed by games for which the following winners received prizes.

Mrs. Laura Riley, Mrs. Rose Brosch, Mrs. Alma Odendahl and Miss Cecelia Stohr. The prizes, like the fashions were in a humorous vein.

A lunch was then served by the committee.

In just a few weeks there will be many girls looking for their first job. Good grooming is very essential when you go to apply for a job as well as continuing the practice after you have acquired your job. First of all wear a becoming simple suit, or a casual dress or smart separates. Be sure they are clean and nicely pressed. Have your hair shining clean and becomingly styled, but not exaggerated. Use makeup but avoid having a heavy paste finish. Wear simple jewelry that will complete your outfit, yet not draw attention to any specific piece. Don't have long claw-like nails, especially if you are applying for office work. Keep them short, rounded and clean. Wear shoes that are comfortable and smart-looking but not dancing shoes. Heavy perfume is not becoming especially early in the morning, so use delicate cologne. It is smart to go job hunting in the morning, don't stay long, and thank whomever you spoke to for their time. Good-grooming and being appropriately but not expensively dressed has helped acquire many a job, so check on yourself before starting out.

New Band Makes Its Debut At Choral Club Concert

"Dance musicians get restless to play dance music," says Booth Watmough, professional band leader who came to Sedalia last October with the Town and Country Shoe Co. That is why he looked around for men for a good dance band in this community. He was amazed and delighted with what he found here.

"Some of those fellows are as good and better than musicians in name bands," he said, and Booth Watmough should know. He was band leader of the 653rd Air Force Dance Band in which were men from Tommy Dorsey's band, Benny Goodman's band and other name bands. These men found themselves in service but it wasn't so bad because they were in the band playing the kind of music they liked to play. Booth, himself, had planned to stay away from music after having directed the Penn College band which became widely-known. But he just couldn't keep away from the piano and when he started to play one night in a service club he found himself back again in the music field as director of the 653rd Air Force Band.

Six or eight weeks ago Watmough got a group of musicians together. Some of them were already organized into small bands, such as Bob Cummings band, and so they went together and became one big band.

Everything was all set except they needed another saxophone player, so Booth turned to his 17-year-old son, Ernest, who plays the trombone and drums. Ernest set to work to learn the sax. Now he thinks he likes it better than the trombone and drums.

The new band made its debut at the Sedalia Men's Choral Club spring concert Tuesday night with Bob Cummings, Jack Faber and Jim Fetters, trumpets; and Harry Trotman, Dr. Dave Robinson and Billy Booth, trombones; Dick Esser, Abe Rosenthal, Leland Payton, Ernest Watmough, and Jerry Engle, saxophones; Bob Garrett, drums; Jake Siragusa, bass fiddle; Booth at piano and tenor sax. Then there is Helen Watmough, Booth's wife, who plays several kinds of instruments and sings.

They were well received on that first night's appearance and they hope the public will like them so well that they will keep them going.

Sometime in June they plan to have their first concert for which there will be a charge. The lively dance music that they play will especially appeal to the young people and all who like dance music are certain to enjoy it, the members of the band feel, because they will play the music they love to play.

When they see how the concert goes over with the people of the community and surrounding towns, they will prepare their programs and the big band will be available for dances.

Sedalia is very fortunate to have such a band and so many excellent musicians. Added to the Sedalia group is Jerry Engle, of Marshall, a former Sedalian, and Jim Fetters, music instructor at Windsor. The band hopes it will be well accepted in this area and in demand.

Recordings of Symphonies Can Help Music Appreciation

National Music Week has just stressed the importance of music in our daily lives. Music can bring fun and pleasures untold. It can inspire us to better things. Yet to many people a symphony is just so much noise. If you are interested in increasing your music appreciation we suggest you borrow a Beethoven symphony from your regional library. Play it over and over again and see if you do not discover a harmony you did not realize existed. Beethoven is only one example. Try Tchaikovsky, Schubert, Mendelssohn and many others.

Bierbaum to Address Pilot Grove Seniors

The Rev. J. C. Bierbaum, pastor of the Pilot Grove Evangelical and Reformed Church, will conduct baccalaureate services for the Pilot Grove High School senior class Sunday evening, May 19 at 8 p. m. at the high school.

Graduation exercises will be held Wednesday evening, May 22 with Dr. W. W. Carpenter of the University of Missouri, the guest speaker. C. A. Repp, county superintendent, will speak at the 8th grade graduation Monday evening, May 20.

Closing activities of the high school include a junior-senior banquet, a Future Farmers of America banquet, FHA banquet, a faculty dinner and a three day trip to the Lake of the Ozarks for the seniors.

Just one caution, a circulating record collection is subject to tremendous wear and tear. It suffers from so much handling, but it is primarily a learning medium.

When you have discovered a Brahms symphony, for example, you should get much more enjoyment from attending a symphony concert and you may want to own your own records.

Plan to Expand Scout Program

Edgar T. Ward, president of the Lake of the Ozarks Council, Boy Scouts of America, announced today that at a planning conference held in Sedalia May 7 plans were made for an expanded Boy Scout program. According to Ward, the Council will be serving approximately 25 per cent more boys by the end of 1958. This of course means that all phases of the program must be expanded to meet the needs of these boys.

An enthusiastic group of Scout-ers set objectives, which if achieved will give much better scouting to the boys of the Council in 1958.

Those in attendance from Sedalia were: Frank Bair, E. L. Meyers, James Holiday, Abe Silverman, Julius Stohr, Oscar DeWolfe, Duane Furnell, C. A. Phillips, William Hiatt and Lou Linn.

Geographic center of North America is about 50 miles west of Devil's Lake, N. D.
